

Thank you for your registration into a Road Rules Driving School course. We want you to know that as our customer, your goals become our goals. In fact, we want nothing but a lifetime of safe driving for our customers!

Upon receiving payment and completion of the course, we will email a letter of completion to you and any other parties contact information you choose to provide us with (legal representation).

Release Of Liability Waiver For Road Rules Driving School (RRDS): Video Conferencing

I agree to the following:

I understand that the course will be completed virtually and RRDS will not be recording any portion of the course and I agree that I will not record or copy any portion of the course (video or audio).

I understand that RRDS cannot guarantee the privacy and security of my network connection. I am responsible for ensuring that my network connection is secure. Please note that we have taken every step to ensure the meeting is secure including using a waiting room and locking the meeting once it is underway so no one else can enter. I agree that RRDS cannot guarantee the privacy and security of the location where I am conducting the session. I will exercise good judgment in the location of my session.

I understand that the course is not a substitute for counselling.

All of the information referenced in the Registration Form attached hereto is true and correct.

I certify that the statements in this document are accurate and consent to the release of any information contained herein to the Authorized Recipients.
